

AVINGTON

Ethical Growers of Luxury Merino

Overseer Position

Avington Merino | New position | Kyneton Region

Avington Merino is a luxury fibre production business based near Kyneton, Victoria. With a focus on ultrafine and superfine Merinos, the business values quality and excellence in all areas of operation. Due to the growth of the business, we invite applications for the new position of Overseer to join the team in driving and maintaining exceptional standards of operations.

Reporting to the Farm Manager, you will have a key role in the day to day operations, focusing on livestock health, pastures, property/plant maintenance and development as well as team performance. You will enjoy the challenge of working closely within a team environment across the 2800 Ha, bringing the best of out those around you, as you demonstrate leadership in everything you do.

To be considered, you will need to have experience with Merino sheep, ideally in fine wool production. A proven history of working with machinery, pastures and general property maintenance are essential, while also being able to demonstrate your ability to work within and take leadership roles in teams. More than anything, you will demonstrate a passion for the superfine or ultrafine industry and be able to communicate your desire to be part of the industry's future.

A remuneration package will be negotiated commensurate with experience, alongside an excellent three bedroom home within 15 mins of schools and all services in Kyneton. More information about Avington can be found here: www.avingtonmerino.com

How to find out more:

Please send your application to: jobs@meridian-ag.com.au with reference to position number 12060. For a confidential conversation and to obtain a position description, call Ben Reeve at Meridian Agriculture on 03 5341 6100.